more from Andersonville, Ga., to the vicinity of the city of Charleston, S. C., where they will all be clothed, for the rebel officers on Morris Island, contributed by the Charlestonians, brought back by Col. Woodford.

It is reported that the Union prisoners, owing to misrepresentations, made them by rebels, later, after 18 months captivity, taken to the city of Charleston, S. C., where they have been liberated. About half the number of the prisoners, however, are still in captivity, the other half are laboring on Sullivan's Island.

It was reported at Hilton Head that 10,000 invalid rebel prisoners were to arrive there from Andersonville, Ga., in the near future, under Gen. Sherman.

It is much to be desired that the southern people much characterized by the Union vic-elously expressed by General McClellan, who policy upon acceptance embody a line of action, which would not only restore the authority of the Government, but would also, by the aid of the Union, and give full protection to the rights of the Union, and the return of the Union to a permanent and honorable peace.

Thus we are now, as we have ever been, in a position to recognize the recent victories of the Union, and to prosecute the war with increased vigor. The last armed rebel abandons his arms, and the Union is now in the position of the United States.

It is much to be desired that the southern people much characterized by the Union vic-

Our loss has been small, not one-sixth that of our enemies. We may have 100 prisoners.

countless evils of (dis)human and horrid war, must be made to realize the misery which they are inflicting on the innocent children of their military adherence to the damnable heresy of secession. Are innocent children, helpless women, and deformed men unable to make a difference in consequence of the heinous offenses of these ultralists who are bending all their energies to destroy the government which has freed them from the tyrannical rule of the rebels? Let the rebels answer this question.

They inaugurated the war, without any cause or provocation, and without any just division of our government. Our mountains and rivers are not susceptible of a division. The National Union must be preserved. Secession is radically wrong. No State has a right to secede. The admission of the right of secession would give to the States the permanency of any confederation of States. No government can be established on a firm basis that rests on the shifting sands of secession.

requires the inherent right of any portion of that government to withdraw its consent as well as the right of the people to alter or abolish it by any possible means, secure its independence, the very attainment of that object would entail endless war upon its citizens. Divisions and dissensions would spring up, and increase, till the government would be dissolved, and carnage would fill the desolated country. But one way, what are the States in rebellion to do to their people a better answer, ground the arms of their rebellion, re-stroke the torch of their freedom, and restore the rights, privileges, and immunities which they had forfeited in the best government in the world, by their disloyalty, under such restrictive laws as they could possibly impose upon them. In the ever memorable words of General McClellan: "The Union is the only condition of peace. We are no more. As all soldiers in the high regard of their countrymen and their own and their loved ones, they were the same holy relations, she welcomed them to their new-born cares and hopes, to their motherly duties, and completed their pride and joy in their children. Poor grandmotherly heart, how could she have foreseen that the earthly part of her life would be so short, and that the husband of her youth, the partner of so many joys and sorrows, the old house in other hands, and herself despoised and barely tolerated to-day as she was yesterday!

The meeting was organized by calling Capt. C. McCleod, commanding officer of the regiment, to the Chair, and reading Capt. D. C. Wheeler's address. On motion of Surgeon J. Buckner, resolutions of three were appointed C. Wheeler, J. Buckner and J. C. McCall. The draft resolutions expressive of the sense of Election Returns.

Our friends in Indiana will be glad to hear of the returns of their State and Presidential electors as soon as the polls are closed. We have many of them in Kentucky who will be extremely anxious to obtain the home vote as soon as possible.

The County Clerks in Kentucky, who have always been so attentive in forwarding our own State returns, will, we trust, not neglect their obligations to them on the 10th of November.

Tuesday, November 9, 1864.
There seems to be a great deal of ignorance as to the law of the United States fixing the day for the Presidential election. It occurs every year, on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November, and as next month opens on Tuesday, the first Monday will be the seventh of the month, and the succeeding Tuesday, November 8, the day assigned for the choice of Presidential electors throughout the entire Union.

TO THE LADIES.—The members of company 1, of the 23d Kentucky Infantry, now at Louisville, are desirous of having the following request of the ladies of Louisville who are ardent supporters of McClellan and Fremont: They want a flag presented to them with the inscription "McClellan and Fremont" upon it, to be held at the company headquarters. They do not think it will be necessary to urge as compliances with the request upon the patriotic ladies of our city. The flag, when prepared, can be transmitted through the mail. If private conveyance cannot be had, it will be sent by express. J. S. St. John, Jr., 224 Kentucky Hotel, Morganza, Louisiana.

EXTERIOR REPORTS FROM HOPKINSVILLE.
—EXTERIOR REPORTS FROM HOPKINSVILLE. On Friday evening, Lieutenant-Colonel Sam Johnson, commanding at Hopkinsville, Kentucky, sent out a scout of his rebel forces. He was followed by the one that shot Mr. Waddle in Trigg county, on Thursday last. In our Sunday issue we stated that Mr. Waddle had died from the effects of his wounds. We have since learned that he is still alive, but lying in a very critical condition. The report of his death was a mistake, and the man is now recovering. He was shot by a rebel soldier, and the wound was very severe. He is now in the hands of the Union forces, and is being treated with the utmost care.

Mr. Wm. Palford has our thanks for Nashville papers. Johnson refused to look at it in this light, and ordered the execution to take place. A. J. St. John, Jr., 224 Kentucky Hotel, Morganza, Louisiana.

NOTICES OF THE DAY.
